Kei whea ngā whētū? Kei Tirohia
Where do I find the stars....they are all here at Tirohia!

Our mission yesterday - 'Hamilton Observatory' to get close up and personal with the Stars of Matāriki. Through time we travelled, sighting timeless hunting lessons of the past for tamāriki, preserved on cave walls. We heard pūrakau of the Greek God Atlas and his 7 beautiful daughters. Ian the astrologist helped us to identify clusters and constellations that mapped out our ancient past times. We all used the solar telescope to see the fiery red sun and it's 3000 degrees sun spots. Entering the spinning dome and seeing it's magnificent telescope was an experience. Mauri ora to matua Ian for coming to host us on his holiday.

Ngā mihinui to Shaz, Sara, matua Stacey, whaea VC, Renata, Anna-Leah and Holley for providing transport to the Observatory yesterday. Also, Kelly, Hayden, Melissa and whaea Shelley Marie for offering their time and, or their vehicles. We were very grateful.

In Week 10, Thursday 1st July our Mid Year reports will go home. Our new template takes into consideration recommendations that came from our Community Consultation. I would love feedback on these. The last day of the term is July 2nd. Kura will finish at 12:00pm on this day. Our van will start drop offs at 12:00pm.

Our parent interviews will take place in Week 3 of Term 3, we look forward to seeing you all

Mataariki

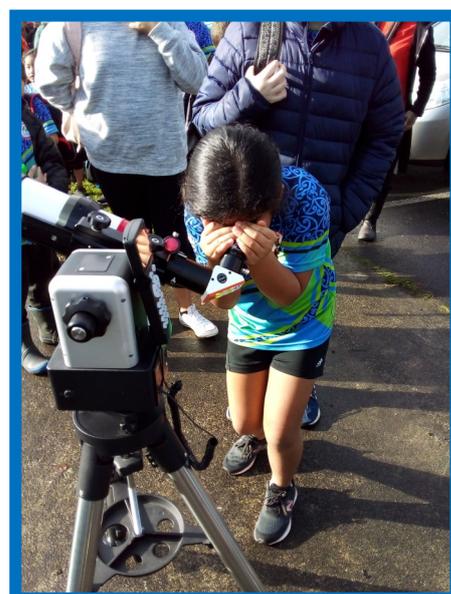

Finally, as I peeked through the little hole of the terrific telescope. A red glorious sun brightly dazzled into my soft gloomy eye. Mila Howard

Ian told us lots of stories about different religions and how they celebrate Matāriki and their stories about Matāriki. Ian also, showed us how to see Matāriki. Rangimaria Emery-Thompson.

The gloomy pale blue stars, as i gaze at them, make me feel like I was there. When I close my eyes it felt so real. Suddenly, I open my eyes they're gone. Tyrie Wickliffe

Eagerly lining up for the Solar Telescope

Special Request: We could use your help to lesson the load.

Volunteers are needed! Are you free to help out at Tirohia Kura cutting, laminating, copying, making and doing, getting resources ready for our teachers so they can increase their contact time with our tamāriki. Your help would be appreciated.

 SKOOL LOOP Keep up to date with what is happening at Kura. Download from the app store
